

Circus of Dreams Supporter,

Circus of Dreams Guild, a 501c3 non-profit organization, is excited to invite you to help us create the first annual Circus of Dreams High-Flying Auction, a fantastic event benefiting Seattle Children's pediatric brain tumor research. With two years and two successful circus show runs raising over $50,000 for Seattle Children's under our belt, we ask for your help to make our first auction a similar success.

The Event: On May 1, 2010 Circus of Dreams will have a unique auction in a beautiful location in SODO featuring aerial performances and a flying trapeze for our auction attendees to watch or try themselves with balcony viewing for everyone to bid and enjoy the entertainment.

The Benefit: 100% of proceeds from the auction will go to the Seattle Children's pediatric brain tumor research being done by Dr. Jim Olson and his lab. Read about his work at <http://circusofdreams.org/Dr.Olson> or at <http://labs.fhcrc.org/olson/index.html>. Seattle Children's has one of the top-ten clinics for children in the country and is devoted to excellent pediatric care, education, and research.

The Cause: Brain cancer is one of the two most common types of childhood cancer. But, less than 3 percent of cancer research is dedicated to children. The Circus of Dreams event and your donations will help bring us a step closer to finding a cure.

The Inspiration: In 2007, Katy Wrenn was diagnosed with multiple brain tumors at the age of 28. After surgery, radiation and months of chemotherapy, she is now doing quite well. Her sister Jenn said she wanted "to do something to inspire my sister --and children battling cancer like her --the same way she inspired me with her bravery". That was the birth of Circus of Dreams. Katy says of the project: 'When my sister offered me the chance to put this benefit together, it was the perfect opportunity to support research that's working to find better, safer treatments for kids. I think of it like this: Every dollar we raise puts us $1 closer to finding a safe, effective treatment.'

How to Donate: We are asking for your donations to do the following

- ♥ Contribute to our auction with your in-kind merchandise or gift card

Your donations will be tax-deductible through our non-profit Guild.
